Final interview:

The candidates qualified in the pre-interview are again called for the final interview. Final interview is generally held in the presence of the representative from the employer's company. If the client feels necessary. Medical Examination:

The Candidates selected after the final interview are sent for medical examination.

Psychological test:

Verification test & background investigations:

Training :

Our personnel are sent to training centers for specific skill development and capacity building. We want them to be adroit, diligent and dependable. Hence we provide them with psychological sessions to enhance their inner faculty. It's confidence that counts in making a person competent. At the end of the day, we have a workforce, which is raring to go that 'extra mile' with high fervor, unbounded determination and supreme confidence.

The easy familiarity with English language, even at the low cadres of labour, eliminates the communication barrier. This fact alone paves the way to higher productivity. Realizing this, we train our people in the languages before placing them, but that depends on the need of the employer. We are associated with Leading Institute, a leading Language training center in Origin Country, which takes care of the language requirements of our manpower.

We at UNITY GENERAL MAINT. CONT. LLC. are proud to have been an efficient partner to many reputed companies throughout these years. This success could not have emerged without our belief in the core values of trust, attention to detail and reliability. Building reliability is a critical element to your business and this can only come to life through finding a partner you can trust with a vast experience in the industry providing meticulous attention to detail. Our continuous focus on reliability and integrity has played a vital role in making us a recognized contracting leader in this highly competitive market place, while growing from strength to strength through each success story with our partners.
